FRENCH DEFEAT AND SLAUGHTER DENSE GERMAN MASSES---Rebel Rank and File Pile Arms at Foot of Parnell Monument and Surrender

DUBLIN REBELS STACKED ARMS AND SURRENDERED

Leaders Have All Given Up to the Troops

And the Rising is Practically All Over.

(By Times Special Cable.)

London, May 1, 1.45 p. m.—Official announcement was made afternoon that all the rebel leaders in Dublin had surrendered.

Dublin, Sunday evening, April 30, via London, May J.—Rebels of the rank and file followed the example of their leaders this morning and confessed the cause of the Irish republic was lost, by laying down their arms at the foot of the Parnell monument in Sackville street and surrendering to British troops. About 450 of them, who had fought since Monday in this central area, marched out from their strongholds under the white flag and gave themselves up. A few irreconcilables continued sniping from lairs difficult to locate, or roofs or among rafters of buildings nearby.

Soon afterwards a rebel lieutenant, wearing a heather green uniform and carrying a white flag, came in with a gruard of ten men

Soon afterwards a rebel lieutenant, wearing a heather green uniform and carrying a white flag, came in with a guard of ten men from the adjoint, county of Meath, to learn the truth about rumors of a general surrender. The party marched off to the Castle and learned from J. H. Pearce, who was named provisional President of the Irish republic, that the movement had collapsed, and was advised to resist no longer. The lieutenant and his escort then started out to parley with the outlaws in the country districts, in an effort to induce them to lay down their arms.

James Connolly, one of the leaders of the uprising, is said by Government officials to be a prisoner, wounded, in the Castle.

A correspondent of the Associated Press visited the centre area of the disturbance to day. The desolation and destruction showed how sever was the flighting while it lasted. Any offert to describe the ruined centre of the disturbance can give only a general idea of

WERE STARVED OUT.

WERE STARVED OUT.
For the second time in the history of this war the Turks have scored against the British. What was long looked for and expected happened on Saturday, when Gan. Townshend and his command at Kut-4-hamra surrendered to the Turks rather than starve to death. The relieving force was unable to reach them, although only a few miles separated them, but the Tigris, with its floods, prevented for the surrender and them to the surrender may desperate but forlors attempts to reach them. They hung out for 1st days, and been thoroughly exhausted, and no doubt not a few must have succumbed to starvation.

Some of the Hamilton barbers have been collecting reasors for the soldiers. Have any been eent ou?

There are apparently newspapers and newspaper correspondents who have not the fear of the Chief Censor before their eyes. Many brave young Canadian lives are being offered up in France on behalf of the Empire, not a few Hamilton boys among the number. We read with pleasure of their daring exploits at St. Eloi, of the great line, and per serifices which inevitably follows. Our young men have gone to the front prepared to lay down their lives if need be in defence of their liberates. Some have already made the great sacrifice, others have been broken and wounded, and still the spirit that animates our men survives and strengthess them. Words are but poor consolers in times like these, but to the stricken trainiles whose boys have "done their bit" at the frost. I did not raise my boy to be a colonel
But had I known how simply it were o
No need to face the murd'rous foe infernal
Nor rush to slay the sanguinary Hun.

No need to flay the hide from off the Kaiser Nor pull his teeth out slowly one by one -If I had only been a little wiser And "savvied" how to train my only son.

I could have raised my boy to be a colonel
And kept him far from either shot or shell
He would have had a cinch on life eternal
And drawn a double salary as well.

Entirely freed from all my fears maternal
And only proud of duty nobly done
I would have raised my boy to be a colonel
Of course I mean an "honorary" one.

I would have raised my boy a gallant colonel
His form with weapons splendidly arrayed
His portrait in this fine old family journal
A-leading of his men to church parade.

Clean-up Week

May 1 to 6

Like a giant refreshed, this "Civic Improvement Campaign" is going to stalk abroad and declare war on dirt, here, there and everywhere. Homes will be rejuvenated from cellar to attic; verandas and exposed surfaces will get the necessary paint treatment; unkempt lawns and backyards will be refreshed and made to harmonize with nature. Everybody is urged to join in making for unprecedented cleanliness throughout this Ambitious City.

A Word is Timely About the Greatest Convenience in Modern Home Improvement---
